

We are looking for cross-cultural management trainers!

You are a Chinese living in China? You are communicative and speak excellent German and English? You have rich professional experience in China and in German-speaking countries? You are looking for a new and interesting challenge?

As a successful company for cross-cultural management training we are looking for:

Freelance trainers for cross-cultural seminars

Your profile:

- At least 3 years working experience in China and Germany or other German-speaking countries
- University degree
- Ideally previous experience as a trainer for adult education
- Excellent communication skills in German and English
- Self-confident
- Open-minded towards other people & culture
- Capable of structuring
- Are ready to take personal responsibility
- Available on working days

Your tasks:

- Conducting cross-cultural management trainings for Chinese (in Chinese or in English).
- Conducting cross-cultural management trainings for Westerners and Chinese (in German or in English).
- You will be instructed to use our own training materials.