

SinaLingua in Shanghai, P.R. of China

Job Ad: Qualified Trainers and/or Teachers (f/m) on

Courses in cross-cultural-awareness, future of education for academy & vocational schools' teacher & students

East-China region, not limited, project-based, main focus - but not limited! to - approx.
sixty-four teaching hour/course of three semester

Company description

Shanghai SinaLingua (Shanghai De Han Ling) a subsidiary of SinaLingua, headquartered in Heidelberg, Germany, is a cross-cultural training and international business consulting company with offices in Germany and China.

Based on our longstanding, in-depth and continuously research, development, linked to extensive practical project experiences we are able to build bridges between people and different cultures. With our divers set of educational formats such as cross-cultural workshops, trainings, seminars and coaching, we are offering opportunities for developing in-depth understanding of underlying, nevertheless essential cultural threads s and moreover help to make practical use developing core competencies for daily work and business.

Thanks to this increasing demand, Shanghai SinaLingua provides systematic soft skills and cross-cultural training for universities, public, private, vocational, and primary schools in China, as well as private KMUs and MNCs.

We now are providing trainings and school project-based learning (PBL) curricular to more than 15.000 students and teachers at over 25 schools located in in Shanghai municipality and in cooperation with associations and institutions to universities and vocational schools all over across China.

Background

In the context of the on-going and increasing of globalisation, and respectively current education, 'Reskilling China - Transforming the world's largest workforce into lifelong learner'*, academic and vocational teacher's as well students on all levels of the educational system in China seeking to change, broaden and deepen their set of skills, that truly global future citizens will need to succeed in the 21st century.

SinaLingua has as well established and longstanding, system of topic research and course development as well as a pool of trainers and teacher.

Nevertheless, and as a result of the demand, we currently are looking for experienced teacher and trainers for in this context for those institutions.

*McKinsey Global Institut - Reskilling China - Transforming the World's Largest Workforce Into lifelong Learners. January 2021

Task description

Our projects will be individually developed and designed using a set with a wide scope of existing systematic courses, modules, and media as a basis.

Through a wide variety of creative and interactive teaching and learning methods, and furthermore adding you own experiences and creativity, you will be enabled and customise those material into unique learning experiences and lessons, that will help those educators and students to develop core soft skills-set as well as cross- and cultural self-awareness that will equip true global citizens to succeed in the 21st century.

Your main tasks & responsibilities

- Briefings with internal team & customers/clients
- Understanding customers'/clients' needs, developing first training ideas/ conceptualisation
- Translating both into customised instructional course design, lesson plans etc.
- Using existing & developing new course material, ranging from individual case studies, critical incidents to comprehensive course books, e-learning & video-learning formats etc.
- Delivering trainings & workshops, off- & online, for MNEs, KMUs, university & vocational schools' teachers & students incl. event evaluation & documentation

Your profile

- German Nationals
- University / Academic degree
- Fluent in English
- Conversational Putonghua-Chinese is a strong plus
- Combines min. 4 years working experiences, ideally China, & preferably in both SME/MNE & education/learning & development environment
- Extensive knowledge of the educational system & practise in China & Germany, vocational & academic education
- Preferably a well-established network amongst Chinese & German educators
- Previous experience as a trainer or in adult education (12-15 1-2-day-training projects)
- Self-confident manner, good & pro-active communicator
- Open minded towards other people
- Taking personal responsibility
- Show & apply capabilities of structured, focused & independent working styles
- Available on working days, upon request & agreement also on weekends

Your benefits - What we offer

- Practical experiences & knowledge working with SinaLingua, one of the market leaders on cross-Cultural-trainings & education in Germany & China
- Extensive, practical & in-depth experiences in China's education system & from rather unusual new perspectives
- The opportunity of carrying out high level creative & independent work
- Further developing your ideas on content, topics, media, events, test, etc.

- A competitive scheme of trainer fee
-

Please, feel free to contact us regarding any further question you might have.

If you are interested, please send your CV, cover letter and information on availability, range of topics and related/desired fee, contact data to:

Flora Fu (Ms)

Product development and project manager

Zhixuan.fu@SinaLingua.com.cn

& CC to: Job@SinaLingua.com.cn

上海德汉灵文化交流咨询有限公司

Shanghai De Han Ling Cultural Exchange & Consulting Co., Ltd.

中华人民共和国，上海市，长宁区 201103，荣华西道 19 弄 5 号, 102 室

No. 5, Lane 19 West Ronghua Road, Changning District 201103 Shanghai City, P.R. of China

Phone 电话 +86 21 3126 8876-806 Fax 传真 +86 21 6275 0744

E-Mail 邮件

Info@SinaLingua.com.cn

Web 网址

www.SinaLingua.de

www.SinaLingua.com.cn

* Managing Director: Ms MAO Zuhui * HQ: Heidelberg * HRA 333050 *